

Figure S1. a-d) Photomicrographs of a cryosection of a villus of the synovial membrane of the horse metacarpophalangeal joint. Two different antibodies against cannabinoid receptor 2 (CB2), raised in rabbit (b) and mice (c), were used to identify the synoviocytes. The arrows indicate some Dapi labelled nuclei of cells in which the two antibodies were co-localised.

Bar: a-d = 50 μ m