

Supplementary file 3 - Initial mapping process for Liam

Each journey comprised the intended pathway with anticipatory medications (prescribe, dispense, store, use (or not), dispose) – shown as pale blue sticky notes with triangles. The remaining colours represent patient and carer experiences related to the intended pathway, including patient contexts and characteristics. Experiences related to components of the pathway were mapped as follows.

- Pale Blue with triangles – intended pathway with anticipatory medications (AMs)
- Pink – patient experienced pathway with anticipatory medications including interactions
- Orange – patient or informal carer wishes and/or needs
- Green – perceived pain points
- Yellow – events and context related by participants
- Darker Blue – patient or carer adaptations - both effective and ineffective
- Capabilities were also listed
